OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Here was a man to hold against the world
A man to match the mountains and the sea
The color of the ground was in him, the red earth,
The smack and tang of elemental things
And when he fell in whirlwind, he went down
As when a lordly cedar, green with boughs,
Goes down with a great shout upon the hills
And leaves a lonesome place against the sky.

At a meeting held in the Havena public school in New Lenox Friday evening, the final report was given by the school survey committee.

Even though the temperature reading was 15 degrees below zero more than 100 interested persons, including school board members, braved the weather to attend this most vital meeting.

This survey committee came into being when they were chosen by a representative group of citizens and school board members about a year ago to study the high school problem in this non high school area of New Lenox, Frankfort and part of Manhattan townships. The committee is composed of Lawrence Kohl, Mokena, chairman; Albert Krusemark, Frankfort; George Bovee, Manhattan; James A. Dixon, Lincoln Estates, and John Oster, New Lenox, secretary.

Dr. William Reavis, professor of education administration at the Chicago university, in giving a brief history of public schools, said that there were no public schools in the state until the legislature passed a law providing that any territory or contiguous territory could organize a school. Cities also organized school systems but none were a free public system until the passage of this act in 1855. This act called for instruction in the eight grades.

"Then people from New England," Dr. Reavis said, "who were living in Illinois or moving in, began to agitate for high schools. A few high schools were built in cities like Galesburg which could afford to build and staff one. But what about little districts without enough wealth, how could they afford one?"

The speaker then stated that in 1869 Princeton wanted a high school but could not afford it; they called on their neighbors and pooled their resources and built the first township high school in the state.

How To Protect From Atomic Bomb Attack

Mrs. Forest J. Miller, defense chairman of the Orland Park women's club cites the following instructions on how to protect yourself in case of an atomic bomb attack:

"The blast from the bomb causes the most damage, next the burns and fire from the heat of the explosion and third the danger of radiation.

If an attack happens without warning, if you are inside: drop to the floor, cover your eyes and nose, stay away from windows, lie still and count seventy seconds. If you are outside: drop flat on the ground, cover your eyes, next to a building if close, even a gutter, with a coat overhead. Always wait seventy seconds.

If warned of an attack at home, if time permits: shut off electricity, gas burners, gas furnace, gas hot water heater, cover windows, go to the basement.

To prevent fires: clean up paper and rubbish around the home, have a pump type fire extinguisher handy, also have a pail that could be filled with water to put out fires.

In case of burns, have an up-to-date first aid kit. Purchase a Red Cross First Aid book, for 60c at Red Cross headquarters, 529 S. Wabash ave., Chicago.

As many as possible in the home should complete the Red Cross first aid course. If further information is desired get the following booklets:

"Survival Under Atomic Attack", Superintendent of Documents, Washington D. C. 10 cents.

"How to Survive an Atomic Bomb", Bantam book, 25 cents.

Since 1910 more than 17,500,000 boys and men have been identified with the Boy Scouts of America.

Rabies—A Year 'Round Danger

The mistaken conception that dogs become afflicted with rabies only in hot weather is not subscribed to by this little lady who, despite near-zero temperature, sees that her pal and her family are protected by the pet beagle being vaccinated against rabies by a veterinarian.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—Rabies, a disease fatal to humans and animals alike, is as great a threat in winter as during the summer months, according to Dr. Roland R. Cross, state Director of Public Health.

For a person's own security and for the protection of his pet, it is advisable to see that dogs are immunized against rabies summer and winter, he declared. Although more dog bites are reported to the health department during the months of June through October, statistics indicate that 80 per cent of the diagnosed cases of rabies in dogs are found in the period of November through May.

Rabies in humans is 100 per cent fatal. Treatment following dog bite, to stave off the disease, may be dangerous in itself, and costs the state Department of Public Health, which provides anti-rabies vaccine free of charge, about $100,000 annually. Much of this medical expense, as well as a great share of nearly $500,000 which is lost yearly in livestock and livestock products because of rabies in meat and milk animals in Illinois, could be saved if proper control measures were taken, Dr. Cross asserted. The only practical way of controlling rabies in Illinois, he continued, is through annual vaccination of all dogs kept as pets and removal of strays for which no one takes the responsibility of vaccination. Dr. Cross has urged civic-minded individuals, veterinarians, physicians, health officers and livestock men to form community organizations to fight rabies. Such a committee can, he said, encourage dog vaccination and licensing and removal of unlicensed strays who could carry rabies to pets; urge and support state and local legislation for rabies control measures and promote educational programs aimed at veterinary examination of all dogs suspected of having rabies.

Find Molds For Gel Cookery Dishes in Everyday Kitchen Articles

Successful gel-cookery doesn't call for an investment in elaborate molds. Appetizing dishes made with unflavored gelatin can be molded in containers found in most every kitchen. A coffee can is used to mold a main dish; mixed vegetables go back into their own can container to mold into cylindrical shape. Desserts are molded in an orange shell custard cup, or a fluted paper cup mold.

Basic Fruit Gelatine

1 envelope unflavored gelatine 1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cold fruit juice 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups hot fruit juice

Soften gelatine in cold fruit juice. Add hot fruit juice, sugar and salt; stir until dissolved. Pour into large or individual molds and chill until firm. YIELD: 4 servings.

For Tomato Aspic: Omit sugar, increase salt to 1/2 teaspoon; add 1/2 teaspoon onion juice or other seasonings, if desired.
Molded Sea Food: Make Tomato Aspic. When gelatine is slightly thickened fold in 1 cup cut shrimp, shredded crab meat or tuna.

Molded Vegetables: Make Tomato Aspic. When gelatine is slightly thickened fold in 1 1/2 cups mixed cooked vegetables and 1/2 cup diced celery or shredded cabbage.

ILLINI WINNER

Alan M. McHenry, University of Illinois student, took first prize in national architectural competition with design showing lay-out for a public swimming pool with clay tile "beaches," and a detail of a large tiled-mural-wall to screen pool's bleacher area from street. Beaux-Arts Institute of Design and Tile Council of America jointly sponsored contest.

"THIS CAN CONDEMNED"

Condemnation tags, as shown above, are attached to milk cans which are too battered and worn for use as safe carriers of milk or cream. Often this means a serious money loss to the farmer, for it means that milk or cream carried in such cans is rejected outright or downgraded below the level of top prices. Replacement of old milk cans with new cans at the farm level before they become "borderline cases" subject to condemnation will safeguard dairy farmers' profits and reputations.

PAY LESS FOR SHELLING CORN

SHELL IT YOURSELF with a JOHN DEERE

Shell your own corn cleaner, faster, and at lower cost with a John Deere No. 4-B Corn Sheller. Turning out from 100 to 250 bushels per hour with a 6 H.P. engine, the economical No. 4-B soon pays for itself in custom charges saved.

The No. 4-B is simple, sturdy, and long-lived... easy to set up and easy to feed. Hardened steel cylinder running on self-aligning bearings shells clean... cracks less corn. Nine-foot cob stacker, powerful cleaning fan, adjustable corn thrower, and all-steel construction are other features you'll like in the No. 4-B Sheller.

The John Deere No. 4-B is the ideal sheller for feeders and dairymen. Stop in soon for complete information.

Jesus Meets Need

Lesson for February 11, 1951

WHAT PEOPLE want would fill many books. What people need is a simpler story. Whatever success Christianity has had, is due to its success in meeting human needs. If Christianity were only an argument, or a system of ideas, it would never have gone as far as it has, nor won so many friends.

Dr. Foreman

Ignorance
THE Church at its best has simply followed in the paths on which Jesus was a pioneer. The gospel stories of Jesus show him as one who "went about doing good" as Peter put it. Seeing a need, he bent himself to meet that need; this has been the ideal for Christians and the church ever since.

One of the first needs of man is to be saved from his ignorance. Jesus saw the human race not as a pack of wolves or a mass of snakes, but as sheep without a shepherd.

So Jesus then, and the church now, set out to teach. A church that does not teach is a poor church. "The church must teach or die," it is true; it is also true that the church must teach or others will die.

Sickness
IT IS not on record that Jesus ever walked by a sick person without making him well. Jesus did not think that sickness and pain are good things in themselves.

When you think of all the loss of time, money and happiness that one miserable little cold can cause, and multiply that by the number of colds in North America alone; when you think of the pain and danger and after-effects of one attack of malaria, and then think of all the cases of malaria in all the warm regions of the world; and when you go on adding up all the diseases there are, you really wonder how the human race manages to stagger along.

Now the Christian church has always been doing something about this. Today, in many backward countries, Christian doctors and hospitals have pioneered in health, and indeed are the only effective disease-fighters in the whole region.

Hunger
WHATEVER else can be said of the feeding of the five thousand, one thing is plain: Jesus did not think it was a good thing for people to stay hungry.

So the church, following his example, has fed the hungry wherever it can. The church protests, and will continue to protest, against any society or institution that leaves people hungry. It is on empty stomachs that things like Communism rise.

So when a missionary like Sam Higginbottom in India teaches better ways of farming, or when the Salvation Army adopts the slogan "Soup, soup and salvation," or when heifers are rounded up and sent abroad as a gesture of Christian friendship, when CROP interests the Christian farmers of America in rural reconstruction in war-torn areas of Europe, the church is just following the lead of Jesus.

Slavery
ONE of man's deepest needs is freedom. Jesus did not set free any slaves in his time, it is said; but is this true? There are other kinds of slavery besides that from which Abraham Lincoln freed the Negroes in 1863. Of these other kinds, one of the worst is slavery of the mind. We see Jesus setting his contemporaries free from the heavy chains of taboos and false traditions which the Pharisees had piled on them.

So when the first Christians broke away from the burdens of the old ceremonial laws, or when a Christian missionary in Africa or China or Greenland set men free from the darkness of pagan superstitions, or when the Protestant Reformation came, a great Declaration of Independence in the name of Christ from the traditions and superstitions which had long obscured the truth and burdened the minds even of Christians, the church is only following the example of Christ.

When we stand for a free church in a free land and a government of free men, we stand as Christians ought to stand, enemies of tyrannies in every form.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Blue Wins This "Hunt"

Cappy Miller's coon dogs—except for one of them, Old Blue—are about the finest hounds in the county. Blue's too friendly and easy-going to care much about hunting. He doesn't act the way we think a good dog should, so we figured he'd never amount to much.

But a fellow comes around Saturday looking for a good dog to photograph for some advertising. And the dog he picks is Blue! Says Blue's happy, friendly face is just the one to attract people's attention. So Cappy gets more money for that picture than his other dogs will ever take in hunt prizes. From where I sit, that should teach us not to look down on humans, when they act differently than we think they should. For instance, maybe you think tea goes best with food. O.K.—but don't size up wrong the man who enjoys a bottle of beer at mealtime. Like Blue, I guess we're all "different" in one way or another—but that doesn't mean we don't have our good points, too!

GET AN AUTOMATIC

GAS

CLOTHES DRYER

Yes, it's true... the average homemaker walks 40 miles a year just carrying the weekly wash back and forth... not counting the stooping, hanging and pinning. When you have an automatic GAS clothes dryer you'll take just one step from your washer to the dryer... toss the clothes in... and take them out minutes later, fluffy and sweet-smelling.

PURCHASE

Use an automatic GAS clothes dryer in your own home for 30 days. If, at the end of that period, you are not completely satisfied, let us know and we'll pick up the dryer and refund your down payment.

Of course, while you're saving steps, you're saving your energy, too. No more lifting and carrying those heavy, heavy baskets... no more moving clothes from sun to shade... or rescuing them from a sudden shower. Drying clothes is just two operations when you have an automatic GAS clothes dryer... put 'em in... take 'em out!

See the new automatic GAS clothes dryers at our nearest store or your dealer's.

COLD WEATHER CUTS ILLINOIS PEACH CROP

The present cold snap has further dimmed the prospects for a good peach crop in Illinois this year, according to L. L. Colvis, manager of the Illinois Fruit Growers Exchange.

Temperatures in the orchard areas of southern Illinois ranged from 2 to 5 degrees below zero Monday night, he said. Such severe cold weather is certain to have done some additional damage to the peach buds and probably killed another 25 per cent of those buds remaining, Colvis indicated.

"It will take a day or two to determine full extent of the damage," he said. "And the damage will vary from one orchard to another."

"But it looks as if there is an average of not more than 15 per cent of the buds left on the trees and already some orchards have been hurt so badly they will produce less than a normal crop."

The reason the present cold weather is cutting so heavily into the peach crop prospects is because an average of 70 per cent of the peach buds were killed during a cold spell in late November, Colvis declared.

The Illinois Fruit Growers Exchange is an affiliated company of the Illinois Agricultural Association and markets a large quantity of fruits and vegetables for southern Illinois farmers. The IAA is the statewide Farm Bureau organization with 178,000 farm families as members.

The peach trees have suffered more damage now than they had a year ago, Colvis said. Illinois produced a "light" peach crop last year of 500,000 bushels, according to the Fruit Growers Exchange manager.

Also, Illinois fruit farmers always expect to lose some more of their crop during blossom time, when a temperature of one to two degrees below freezing damages the trees, he said.

There is still a chance for a bigger peach crop this year than there was last year, Colvis said. But, all the signs point to a small peach crop for '51.

USO Needs Cookies

The Chicago USO Club, 308 N. Michigan boulevard, is in need of homemade cookies and cakes. They are needed especially for the week ends when large group of servicemen and women come into town looking for fun and relaxation at the club's parties. Anyone wishing to donate these refreshments can bring them directly to the club during the day when they will be received by a volunteer. All deliveries should be made to the third floor of the building.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I may be donating my time in putting forth this epistle to congress but there may possibly be some honest guy amongst that outfit who does not catch on too quick. This message is for him—it is about the handwriting on the political wall. It is about what appeared on the front page there on Wednesday morning, November 8—the day after the avalanche, and especially there in Buckeye-land.

The right to work in this grand land has become a flimsy right. The laws of the land are all on the side of the labor boss—not on the side of labor. If you are a bricklayer, as a sample, and you choose to lay bricks where and when you please, and how many—you don't. The man who would like you to lay up his fireplace is afraid to hire you if you have no card. All other workers would be pulled off the job if you, a free American, but with no card, showed up for work. Congress has mistaken the cry of "the rights of labor" as coming from labor—and has shivered and shook in its boots. It thought it was voters it heard. It was not—it was the Labor Boss. Congress has been a sucker for 10, 20 or 30 years.

So now, you slow pokes in congress, stir yourself—I have done my part. Quit shivering and shaking in your shoes—and remember Ohio, or your days may be numbered.

Yours with the low down,
JO. SERRA

HELP NEEDED AT VA HOSPITAL

Men between the ages of 21 to 55 are needed to help the Veterans Administration care for disabled veterans at the Downey VA hospital near Waukegan, Illinois.

A special plea was made for single men 35 to 55, to apply for positions. In addition, several vacancies exist for women in the same age groups.

The positions are nurses aides and attendants. Starting salaries are at $2,200 per annum or a gross of $84.62 per two-week pay period. Quarters and meals may be obtained on the station at a cost of $20.15 per pay period.

Application for these positions should be made at the nearest office of the Illinois State Employment Service.

Copy of Book Over Thousand Years Old In State Library

The Illinois State Library has recently received delivery of a facsimile copy of the Book of Kells, whose original manuscript is believed to be between 1,000 and 1,400 years old. Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, State Librarian, announced today.

The original copy has been in the possession of Trinity College, Dublin, Elre, since 1661, and the facsimile edition marks the first time the entire book has been reproduced in any form, Mr. Barrett said. Only 400 copies were made.

The Book of Kells contains the four Gospels, written in Latin, and though it is frequently classed as Vulgate, scholars have stated that it should be viewed rather as an Irish variant of the "Mixed" or "Old Latin" text. They have placed its origin between the sixth and the late ninth centuries.

The original is an illuminated manuscript on vellum and a description of it states that it is "a supremely beautiful document, surpassing all other works of its kind, and by far the finest example of early Christian art in Ireland."

The description continues: "In the pages of the manuscript northern styles and southern styles of art appear side by side, Christian and pre-Christian, mingled with Celtic, Coptic and Romanesque. For the history of European art, the manuscript is a mine not yet fully explored, and it is a labyrinth of beauty, to which perhaps the clue has not yet been found."

"The opening words of each Gospel are imbedded in a carpet of color and intricate tracery. These are the 'great pages', the work of a master-hand, executed each with princely splendor and extravagance of invention and resource."

The facsimile edition, in two volumes, contains 678 pages, of which 48 are in color. The color pages include the "great pages". It is the same size as the original, the pages measuring about 12 by 15 inches, and the plates containing the text being about 10 by 13 inches.

A word to the wise for winter: The National Safety Council says the common winter practice of leaving overshoes on entry stairs is a tripping hazard. Keep stairs clean.

are: John Duer, Linda Sue Powers, Teddy Dunham, Doris Yunker, Mary Stahl, and Jeanne Schiek.
Pupils who have completed six reports on books other than this year's reading circle list are: Sheila Bennett, Caroline Holm and Teddy Dunham.

Many of us were remembered by Santa with puppets. Linda Sue Powers received stage, script and puppets for "Hansel and Gretel". Those taking part when the play was presented to our room were Gladys Rinke, as Hansel; Kathryn Cooper, Gretel; Linda Sue Powers, the witch; Teddy Dunham acted as stage director.
All enjoyed "Henry's Old School-mate" presented by Sheila Bennett and her group. The puppeteers included Susan Benson, Carol Hohenstein, Roger Swart, Donna Heinicke, Jacqueline McGinnis, Leonard Hemmrick. Teddy Dunham acted as stage manager.

At the present time Ginger Steele is directing "The Man in the Moon". Her puppeteers are: Joan Teague, Doris Yunker, Dick Hamilton, Joan Larrimore, Barbara Duer, Shirley Kule, Patricia Boleman, Penny Spiewak, Mary Stahl, and Kenneth Oldendorf. Teddy Dunham is again acting as stage director.

The spelling contest between the 5th and 6th grades continues to be of much interest. The score at present is 9 to 8 in favor of 6th grade.

Second Grade News

We made valentine men and put them in the back of the room.

The second grade made booklets in which we wrote the names of the books we read.

We are making rhyme booklets. We draw pictures and write rhymes about our reading stories.—Kay Swinford, reporter.

Third Grade News

We have started studying a new unit, "Where I Live". We are using our new book "Far and Near". We are also making a booklet.

Right now we are working on "Our Home" for a part of our booklet. We are pasting pictures, drawing pictures and writing stories for it. We will have a part about our school, our town, our country, our state, our county, our continent, and our world.

We have just finished our reading book, "Streets and Roads". We liked the last unit best of all. It contained fairy tales.

The girls and boys in our room brought dimes for the March of Dimes. Many of them filled the card. Then we had fun dropping them in the iron lung. —Sharon Kay Cappel, reporter.

SCHOOL SURVEY REPORT—

The state superintendent of the school told them it was legal and they floated bonds, but the state's attorney declared it illegal, but Princeton had gone too far to withdraw. It was made legal by bill enacted at the next session of the legislature, making a special charter for this high school.

Dr. Reavis said that a township high school act was passed in 1872 under which about 100 high schools were built. It provided that citizens of any township could build a high school and were privileged to levy bonds up to 5%.

Difficulties were experienced in communities getting together at this time and after amendments passed by the State Legislature in 1905 and 1911, only 264 township high schools were built. From 1900 to 1950 such schools could have been built in the 1102 counties in the state were it not for this disagreement, and in 1917 building of such schools stopped, and community high schools looked better.

Dr. Reavis stated that the law was altered to make the building of community high schools legal, and by the end of 1927 there were a total of 600 high schools in Illinois. The Legislature seeing further difficulties in the education of its youth by realizing that some territory in townships needing high school instruction could not afford to build such schools, added to the township high school act, non high school districts.

"These districts," Dr. Reavis said, "were obligated to elect a high school board which was authorized to levy a tax to pay tuition for children in established high schools that they wanted to attend. At that time 60% of the area of the state was non high school district."

Because of the legislature passing house bill 1070 in July 1945, most of the non high school districts have attached themselves to some high school district. House bill 1070 provided that by July 1, 1953, all non high school territory in the state of Illinois shall be abolished, and the districts will have to take over paying tuition of their eighth grade graduates.

Dr. Reavis said that, "because of districts with many children and small revenue that are therefore not wanted in most high school districts, some non high school districts have accumulated a lot of debt. As we are committed in this country, to a high school education for our children, therefore when the non high school districts end, the elementary schools will have to take over a burden that many cannot afford. It has been proved that pupils in districts in non high territory do not have the desire to go on to high school because of lack of transportation, etc. Therefore we must think hard now about what to do, since time is short; we must either establish a high school district or our elementary schools will have to take over its high school students."

Cost of tuition in all schools is rising so rapidly that it is hard for non high school districts to pay.

The following chart shows enrollment as of today in the following schools:

Public Parochial High	120
Element. Elemen. School	51
Township Pupils Pupils Students	49
Manhattan 120	51
(40 attend Joliet, 9 attend Peotone)	49
New Lenox 470	100
	115

(115 attend Joliet)
Frankfort 422	40
(35 attend Bloom, 1 Peotone, 17 attend Orland, 76 attend Joliet)	129
Total	1,012
Orland	240
	120
	311
	393

Dr. Reavis showed that if there would be no unusual growth in population that the figure of 293 high school students in six years from now would be 372, and by 1964 there will be 483 in high school if same population trends continue.

Taking the 40 pupils from Manhattan, 115 from New Lenox and 76 from Frankfort townships who today attend Joliet Township High school at a tuition rate of $400 each, per year, gives us the sum of $92,400 outside of transportation costs.

Dr. Reavis explained the community unit district giving its added advantages but stated we can now vote on the community high school district, as we have already defeated the community plan in previous election. He said we could change from community high school district to community unit plan later, when the latter is better understood. Taking all these facts into consideration, Dr. Reavis urged this territory to build a high school.

In next week's issue will be published the secretary, Mr. Oster's report in its entirety, which should be read and studied by everyone in this territory who is interested in the schools. Also published next week will be the questions and answers given at this meeting.

The survey committee thanked the Joliet Township High school for their kindness and cooperation to the students who have been sent to them from this area and said that they would always have a friendly feeling toward that school. Mr. James Cherry, assistant superintendent of Joliet Township High school and Junior college, was present and promised the continued assistance of the school whenever it is needed.

Petitions are to be circulated soon, which when sufficient citizens have signed them, will be presented to county superintendent of schools, Louis F. Bottino. He in turn, after studying the petition, will send it to Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of schools at Springfield, who will study the proposal for the new district as outlined on the petition. Within 90 days, if Mr. Nickell finds the petition in line with good educational policy, he will return it to Mr. Bottino with a recommendation that an election date be set.

The next step following the selection, if it carries, will be to elect a board of directors, who in turn will select a site for the new building and hold an election for the people to approve, and to set
